NEW YORK, October 12.—The drygoods market continues weak in all cotton lines. Woollens show no perceptible strengthening, though the demand for spring goods, as well as the supplementary fail lines, are well sustained. Reports of fair business at second hands, and with retailers in various parts of the country, continue, but buyers are still chary of heavy purchasing. Print-cloths are steady at 21-2c. Prints are generally without change.

on all grades. Planters' Warehouse averaged as high as $15.97 for some planters. Breaks will be large again to-morrow. Shelburne & Co. will offer at Davenport's the celebrated crop of Mr. F. M. Rawlings, of Battleboro', N. C., together with crops of other well-known planters. Planters' Warehouse will also have good sales. The undertone of the market to-day was strong, and not only considerable looking around, but that which also has resulted in good trading has been observed. Speculative buying of old dark lugs in quite large lots forms one feature, some of the same dating back quite far.

On the other hand, manufacturers are stocking up with western filler substitutes at home, and a great many sales have lately been to western manufacturers themselves.

In certain lines stocks are low, but the market is by no means void of that usual assortment and supply for which Richmond is famous, when there is any real demand.

The last two weeks have been decidedly more encouraging to a number of our Trade, though all do not participate in CHICAGO LIVE-STOCK MARKET, Prices of Money, Bonds, Stocks, Grain, Tobacco, Cotton, Cattle, Country Produce, &c., Foreign and Domestic.

NEW YORK, October 12 .- Much parade was made yesterday of the alleged-conversion of some of the leading bear ope rators on the Exchange to the bull sid of the market. To-day's developments prove that there is a very large and aggressive contingent still left in the market. Short selling by the bears failed to induce any large liquidation, and purchases by the bulls equally failed to invite any large followers. Skilled observers had arrived at the conclusion that the market was due for a period of dulness, barring the development of some markedly significant news. The hardening of prices last night and the further advance this morning looked like a termination of the bear campaign, yet in the two final hours of the market the bears succeeded in working a sharper decline throughout the whole list than has been accomplished on any one day of their campaign. They had no new event which could influence the values of stock to aid them, and there was little, if any, cessation in the improvement in the earning power of the properties of the shares which are dealt in on the Exchange.

The nominal motive of the selling was the fear that our relations with Spain were in danger of rupture as an outgrowth of the policy which General Wood-ford was ordered to pursue at Madrid, a dispatch from Madrid to the Associated Press carrying the forecast of the sub-stance of Spain's reply, which, it was feared, would have some influence would perhaps lead President McKinley to take action that might lead to a deciaration of war.

Several ineffectual attempts were made to stem the decline in stocks, but rallies were only momentary, and fresh heavy offers kept up the liquidation till the close of the day. Last prices were in many cases the lowest and the tone of the market at the last was very fever-Chicago Gas and the Grangers most heavily dealt in, and showed the

The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says: The stock markets were quiet to-day. There was a better tone in Americans, but the only pro-nounced rise was in Canadas and Norfolk and Western, both of which were largely bought. The close was at the best. In the other markets the only feature was the continued boom in West Australian mines.

the Port Norfolk Company secured an

NEWPORT NEWS SHIP-YARD.

Is It to Be Sold to the Armstrongs, of England?

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., October 12.

(Special.)-It is believed here that the ship-building plant in this city will soon pass into the hands of the Armstrongs of England. When Mr. Collis P. Huntington, the founder of the Golden Gate of the Atlantic, came to Newport News in the summer of 1896, accompanied by two ship-building experts from England, the probable sale of a part interest in the plant of the Newport News Ship-Building and Dry-Dock Company immediately be-came the subject for public gossip. In act, Mr. Huntington intimated in speech and manner that he would not be averse disposing of a portion of his interest in the largest and most completely-ap-pointed ship-yard on American soil; provided, of course, he could dictate his own but from reliable sources, that Sir Wi strued to mean that there is more truth in the alleged negotiations than the officials of the Newport News Ship-Buildin and Dry-Dock Company are pleased to rived in the city, accompanied by Sir Edward J. Read, of London, an expert in the construction of vessels of every de scription as well as a prominent per-sonage in naval circles on the other side, and Mr. A. Mackay, of Dundee, Scot-land, an intimate acquaintance of Mr.

Huntington's, who arranged the meeting between Sir Edward and the railway magnate. From this and what follows it was concluded that Sir Edward Read came to the United States, and subsequently to Newport News, as an agent for Sir William Armstrong, if, indeed, he is not a member of the firm of Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., for the express pur-pose of inspecting the plant of the New port News Ship-Bunding and Dry-Dock Company. It was inferred that Sir Edward reported the result of his observa tions to Armstrong, and the latter de cided that the ship-yard would make handsome addition to his already extensive list of enterprises. At any rate, Mr. Huntington found it convenient to visit Newcastle-on-Tyne some time in the spring of this year. It also pleased him to talk about a disposition of his interest

Of course, according to Mr. Huntington, no decision was reached in the matter.

There is no doubt that the reported transfer would be the best thing that could happen for the ship-yard and probably the city of Newport News. Armstrong would no doubt extend the ca-ordnance factory and an armor plant, and constructing the largest dry dock in the United States. These additional en-terprises would necessitate the employ-ment of probably 5.000 men.

the plant, it is felt that such time would not be usefully spent. By the act of Congress Secretary Long is charged with the duty of submitting a description of the lands, buildings, and machinery needed for an armor plant but this is not construed to mean thing more than the submission of plans for a plant, although he may volunteer a recommendation as to site
